"It's a fine day." Hall remarked, as he lathered Holm. "Uh, huh," answered Holm, out of one corner of his mouth.

He rested the edge of the razor on Holm's Adam's apple and then went on: "In fact I could cut your throot without any trouble. I don't believe a drop of blood would show on the blade its so keen."

"Naybe not," Holm replied, "but think now it would muss up the towels."

"Yes, yes," Hall laughed. "Sure. Nobody would blame me, though, if I did cut your throat, would they?"

"Oh, no," Holm agreed, "but we're old friends, so put it off a few days."

Holm hurried out and got a Taylor's. policeman. The barber will have a hearing tomorrow.

IMPROVES ALL KINDS OF PIES

By Martha McCulloch Williams. Home without a mother is hardly sadder than a home without piemince, apple, peach, pumpkin, custards, plain and gorgeous-every sort of ple, indeed that it has entered into the human mind to concoct and the store room to furnish forth. Each and several, these can be baked in paper bags to their great improvement. The improvement is particularly marked in the case of tartlets and turnover, of which the paste is so essential a part. Doubt it who will, the fact remains that pie crust is better, flakier. of richer flavor and more digestible when cooked in a bag than when cooked naked.

TOOTHSOME SWEETS.

By Nicolas Soyer, Chef of Brooks' Club, London.

Pudding a la Munich: Take some slices of stale French bread and toast to a light crisp brown, then spread thickly, first with butter, then with golden syrup. Place a layer of golden syrup in a well-greased paper souffle dish, sprinkle it with washed and dried chopped currants, chopped sul tanas, a little chopped lemon peel and a very little grated nutmeg or alspice. Put a layer of the toast, then currants, sultanas, peel and spice, and repeat the layers until the dish is full Make a custard with half a pint of milk, the well-beaten yolk of an egg and a tablespoonful of powdered sugar. Pour over the whole and leave for fifteen minutes. Meanwhile, whip the white of an egg to a stiff froth with a few drops of lemon juice; add a little powdered sugar and pile high on top of the pudding. Put in a wellbuttered bag, bake to a golden brown for thirty minutes, and serve. The meringue mixture may be omitted and the custard made with the whole egg. In that case, bake the pudding for thirty-five minutes. Dust some powdered sugar over and serve.

Genoise Paste: Take six ounces of flour and sift it on a sheet of paper, then half a pound of powdered castor sugar and five ounces of butter, melted but not hot. Break six eggs in a basin and place the basin in some boiling water in a separate pan placed over gentle heat. Beat the eggs and sugar for twenty minutes or so with an egg-beater to a nice consistency, Take the basin off the fire and beat the contents a little again. Add flour and butter, mix lightly with a wooden spoon, but do not stir it up to a cream. Playor according to taste. Take any kind of mold or tin you like, well butter it and dredge with castor sugar. Three parts fill it with the paste and place in the paper bag. Allow thirtyfive minutes in a moderate oven. (Copyright, 1911, by Sturgis & Walton
